

Howards Corner

State of the Church

The Church of today is totally devoid of any understanding of the gospel. We have been entirely devoid of any understanding of what is going on in the world. We have put our trust in religions and denominations and in worldly thoughts. When I read of the things that are going on today, I cringe because I do not hear the so-called churches of today even recognizing what is happening in society today. Is your head buried in the sand? Do you not even read the news? Are you not aware that children as young as 5 years old are being encouraged to change their sex identification. This is happening in this country which is the last frontier of Christianity in the world. Have I lost my sanity or is the rest of the world lost their sanity? We are asleep and have lost any understanding of the word of God. I could go on about children in schools being encouraged to be animals and even worms and the dumb wits that are in control are servants of Satan even though they do not realize it. I will add that the so-called churches are also in the control of Satan but don't realize that they have left the word of God and have followed the world's ways.

I have said before that the church of today is asleep but now, I go further and say you of the organized church which you call Christianity and the church of Jesus Christ have joined yourselves to the world and abandoned the true gospel of salvation by grace and have united with the world view of let's get along with everyone without consideration of the cost of the kingdom of God. While I say this, I also say there are exceptions for there are those that have been born again with the spirit of the Lord Jesus, but we are in the minority in the organized church of today. I have been battling with the Methodist church recently because they are the leader of "give in to the world's ways and surrender to the world's ways". My brothers that are trying to do right – consider what I say- you have been deceived by this churchism that at one point was a righteous church but has declined to a depth of no understanding. I pray for you to leave the dead Methodist or other dead denominations or change it. I have tried for several years, and I have failed. Maybe you can do better than me, but they are coming out of seminaries with these strange world views that don't fit the word of God.

What can I say to you? The enemy is at large and is determined to destroy the kingdom of God. The question though is are you personally deceived or are you just going along with the crowd? You know I have seen the western movies about someone being accused of a crime but have been judged by the mob of people without considering the evidence and have convicted on emotions. Are you being carried along with the crowd of the world today are you considering the word of God and His truth which is full of the evidence of the gospel.

I have written many articles about the church of today but mostly the Methodist church because the Lord has put me in the middle of that church for many years. I don't know how I survived before the Lord baptized me in His Holy Spirit and then I finally understood that it by His spirit that His kingdom is to move forward. If you have not received this Holy Spirit, then you are wandering in the desert of wordliness and churchism.

So, I begin a new series about the state of the so-called churches of today that have been birthed by men that have been given a certain amount of knowledge about the kingdom of God but have not received the full information they needed to grasp the whole message for the Lord has revealed much since their day. So, I say they had some revelation at their time, but the Lord is continuing His truth today. So, churches that have followed men that received a revelation from the word have received that word but have closed their Cannon of scripture and have not understood that things are changing constantly, and we have not received the final revelation.

So, I speak to denominations that have followed men that had a word for their time but are not the final word for the Word is the final word. Do not be limited by denominational teaching but explore the total word of God.

Forget denominations and go to the word directly. It has much more to say to you when you are led by the Holy Spirit. I will be writing more on today's church if the enemy does not shut me down. But I pray for you that the Holy Spirt empower you to understand the total word and not what has been passed out by denominational thinking.

This is the first installment in my message to today's church.

I write with brotherly love and hope that your read with brotherly love.

Howard