Some things are known by human logic and some things are known by only the spirit of God.

So, I say these things not by my wisdom or by my human logic but by the spirit of the Lord. I have been writing for almost five years and have trusted in the spirit of the Lord to give me the words He wants me to say. He has given me many words to write but I do not take any credit for those words but have put them before the Lord to determine whether that is what He wants me to say. There are many times when I wanted to use softer words, but I know the world and the churches of today have had far too many soft words and need to see the tough words that need to be said.

The world and churches of today have taken a road that says everything is ok or will be ok but that is not what the scripture says, and it is not what the news of today is saying. A dark covering of evil clouds is hovering over the world and everywhere you look you see unrighteousness abounding with little to correct it. There is no voice to challenge these things but is supposed to be the voice of the church of Jesus Christ, but the churches are hidden in their corner of a church that has nothing to say but should be preaching the true word of God which is the message of Jesus.

So, what are you hiding from churches? Well, I know you have no understanding of the word and are trying to rely on your human logic which is a corrupt logic. Many are led by leaders who themselves do not know the truth of the scriptures so have instead made up their own words that they like better, but the words they like better are not the truth and will lead to destruction of many pretend believers. It must be the truth as spoken in the word of God and preserved for these many years so that we of today will have a solid foundation to base our beliefs.

John

Whoever believes in me, as Scripture has said, rivers of living water will flow from within them."

It is only the words given by the scriptures of God that lead us to the rivers of living water that flows from within and is not the human logic that comes from the minds of men that they have superimposed on the many congregations who are without true leaders but instead by the blind, so the blind are leading the blind. Be on guard for there are many false leaders in the churches for the enemy has planted them there and only the called of God will be able to tell the difference.

The enemy has always had a plan to spread a little lie here and there and use what we think are nice people or ones that have authority given by some organization that uses names that look like Jesus's followers. His plan has always been by deception, and he knows scripture better than most Christians so it must be by that spirit of Christ that abides in us that tells us the difference.

I come along and really believe all the words of God as recorded in the bible and no one wants to hear what I have to say. That does not deter me personally but bothers me because many are heading for destruction and don't even know they have been deceived. The broad road leads to destruction and it is so easy to find— just don't do anything but just follow the easy path and do not rock the boat and that is the description of most church members of today.

2 Peter 3 Above all, you must understand that in the last days scoffers will come, scoffing and following their own evil desires.

Today we have many that have by human logic put in their own words and become scoffers of the real word and have led people to leave the written word and talked them into believing their false self-made words of human logic which denies the words of the gospel. They do not want to talk about hell and judgement because that does not fit what they want it to say. They have been deceived into thinking - - that does not sound like the soft words of Jesus that we want to hear, and their sentimentalism creates this false story of the broad road where all is ok and be sure you do not rock the boat.

The message being sent today is “all that are members of churches are saved and all is well”, but the scriptures do not tell you that. It came from the long line of church organizations that have taken it upon themselves to say they can save and forgive sins. Sounds like the catholic church where the priest can forgive sins and pronounce penalties for sins. This has carried over to the mainline denominations that lead you to believe that your joining a denominational church then means you are saved and therefore are going to heaven and all the other promises of God.

That is all false and is not in the bible but is implied by the words preached by false preachers because they want you to be a member for their benefit of growing a church and add to their imagined work for the building of the church.

Jesus says the contrary that the road is narrow, and few will find it because it requires taking up your cross and following Him which He never said would be easy but instead the world would hate you like the world hated Him.

Matt 24:35 Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

So those of you who have by your human logic said I do not want the word to say that but instead say what my corrupted logic has invented but it is not your logic after all but is the enemy –the prince and power of the air that has put this in your mind for you are not in Christ Jesus and are unable to see by the spirit of Christ.

Be sure you are truly in Christ and operate by His spirit for human logic is totally corrupt.
